Proof maps and plans: selective summary listing

Maps and plans used and created in the course of producing the firm's own publications and contract printing for others.

Comprises printed and proofs, tracings and original drawings, many annotated-marked and some with related notes, lists or correspondence. This list is based on the arrangement by former Bartholomew Librarian, Ken Winch, which distinguishes Bartholomew publications (drawers 6-13), Contract printing, maps (drawers 17- 46) and Contract printing, atlases (drawers 47-77).

John C. Bartholomew and Ken Winch created detailed item lists, often with additional valuable information, for much of this material when it was initially received. This is indicated in this summary survey, and a copy of the list is held within the relevant drawer.

It should be noted that maps related to individual projects often appear to have become separated in the process of transfer and need to be consolidated. This process has been begun by the collation of material relating to Challenger report/Antarctic exploration, British Empire mapping, Physical Atlas and Survey Atlas of Scotland (drawers 1-5). Files relating to any particular project (including revisions) may include source maps published by others and/or associated non-map material (correspondence, work instructions), although most of such material appears to have been separated at the time of initial survey of these maps.
