Minutes, correspondence, working papers, transcripts of recordings of spiritual messages, publications, library books and magazines, of and relating to the Findhorn Foundation, 1934-88.

The Findhorn Foundation is a non-denominational charitable trust founded in 1962 in a disused corner of Findhorn Bay Caravan Park by Peter and Eileen Caddy and Dorothy Maclean, who worked with the principles of co-operation between people and harmony with nature. Since then, the Foundation has grown into a sizeable spiritual community, and Eileen Caddy's daily spiritual messages have been published and sent free to all who requested them leading to a large and varied correspondence. Over the years, thousands of visitors have travelled to Findhorn from all over the world. To facilitate their stay, accommodation has been provided and educational programmes set up, and today the Foundation acts primarily as an educational centre offering an opportunity for people to visit, live and work in the community.

For other records of the Findhorn Foundation see Accs.10381 and 10560. For Peter Caddy's papers see 12042.
