

Acc.13322
March 2012

Inventory

Acc.13322

Gael Turnbull

National Library of Scotland
Manuscripts Division
George IV Bridge
Edinburgh
EH1 1EW
Tel: 0131-466 2812
Fax: 0131-466 2811
E-mail: manuscripts@nls.uk

© Trustees of the National Library of Scotland

Further literary papers of Gael Lundin Turnbull (1928-2004), poet and medical practitioner. For further papers of Gael Turnbull, please see Acc.12477, Acc.12552, Acc.12553, Acc.12554, Acc.12555, Acc.12556 and Acc.13311.

Presented, 2012

This accession contains:

- 1-4. Literary papers.
- 5-7. Correspondence.
- 8. Photographs.
- 9-12. Printed matter.

1-4. Literary papers.

- 1. 'Searchings'. Typescript draft, with related papers and notes, of an unfinished and unpublished autobiography.
- 2-3. 'Carnougie'.
 - 2. Typescript drafts of 'Carnougie', an unfinished and unpublished book on a fictional early balloonist.
 - 3. Research papers, notes, and related letters, c.2000-2001.
- 4. Copies, some with manuscript annotations, of Gael Turnbull's poems, gathered from various sources, probably working towards There are words: collected poems (Exeter: Shearsman Books; Edinburgh: Mariscat Press, 2006); with related notes.

5-7. Correspondence.

- 5. Photocopy of letter of Gael Turnbull to his mother, 1946.
- 6. Correspondence mainly relating to publications, c. 1998-2000, with some photocopied excerpts of a published poem titled 'Tuist'.
- 7. Christmas cards, mainly from poets, c. 2000-2004.

8. Photographs.

- 8. Photographs of Gael Turnbull, mainly in later life but including a copy of a press cutting, 1943, concerning his school achievements with copy of a contemporary photograph.

9-12. Printed matter.

- 9. Reviews of Gael Turnbull's work, copied from various periodicals, c. 1953-2000.

10. Programme for the BBC Proms, 1992. A concert of of works by the composer John Casken included a setting for a poem by Gael Turnbull.
11. Recurrences [by] Gael Turnbull, with a drawing by John Christie (London: John Christie/Flying Angel Press, 1993). Number 7 in a signed edition of ten copies.
12. A calendar for 2005, quoting lines from Gael Turnbull's A word, a phrase, created by Mario Cava, with letters of Mario Cava, 2006.