Revised October 2022

Inventory

Acc.9322

Benochy Charters

National Library of Scotland
Manuscripts Division
George IV Bridge
Edinburgh
EH1 1EW
Tel: 0131-466 2812
Fax: 0131-466 2811
E-mail: manuscripts@nls.uk

© Trustees of the National Library of Scotland

Contents of documents temporarily deposited by Morrison, McChlery and Co, auctioneers, 98 Sauchiehall Street, Glasgow.

1. Charter, 10 March 1538, by George [Durie], Archdeacon of St Andrews and Commendator of Dunfermline, of the lands of Bennachy in favour of George Blair, son and heir of the late David Blair of Pethy.

2. Charter, 11 March 1538, by George [Durie], Archdeacon of St Andrews and Commendator of Dunfermline, of the lands of Bennachy in favour of George Blair, son and heir of the late David Blaire of Pethy.

3. Instrument of sasine, 17 June 1539, of the lands of Bennachie, in favour of George Blair.

4. Instrument of resignation, 1 July 1543, by George Blair, son and heir of the late George Blair, of Bendonchy, before George [Durie], Archdeacon of St Andrews and Commendator of Dunfermline, in favour of John Ogilvy.

5. Charter, 1 July 1543, by George [Durie], Archdeacon of Saint Andrews and Commendator of Dunfermline, of the lands of Bennachy in favour of John Ogilvy, son and heir apparent of James Ogilvy of Cukistoun.

6. Precept of sasine, 1 July 1543, by George [Durie], Archdeacon of St Andrews and Commendator of Dunfermline, of the lands of Bennachy in favour of John Ogilvy, son and heir apparent of James Ogilvy of Cukistoun

7. Instrument of sasine, 20 August 1543, of the lands of Bennachy in favour of John Ogilvy, son and heir apparent of James Ogilvy of Cukistoun.

8. Instrument of sasine, 20 August 1543, of the lands of Bennachy, in favour of John Ogilvy, son andheir apparent of James Ogilvy of Cukistoun.

9. Precept of clare constat, 20 August 1546, by George [Durie], Archdeacon of St Andrews and Commendator of Dunfermline, recognizing James Ogilvy as heir to his father the late John Ogilvy of Bennachy.

10. Precept of clare constat, 15 August 1548, by George [Durie], Commendator of Dunfermline, recognizing James Ogilvy as heir to his brother germane, the late John Ogilvy, son of the late James Ogilvy of Cukistoun.

11. Instrument of sasine, 17 August 1548, of the lands of Bennathy in favour of James Ogilvy, brother germane and heir to his brother, the late John Ogilvy, son and heir to the late James Ogilvy of Cukistoun.

12. Charter, 10 September 1548, by George [Durie], Commendator of Dunfermline, of the lands of Bennachy in favour of James Ogilvy and his wife Elizabeth Stewart. With fragment of seal.

13. Chater, — September 1548, by George [Durie], Archdeacon of St Andrews and Commendator of Dunfermline, of the lands of Bennachy, in favour of James Ogilvy of Bennachy and his wife Elizabeth Stewart. With seal (damaged).

14. Instrument of sasine, 1 May 1549, of the lands of Bennachy, in favour of James Ogilvy of Bennachy and Elizabeth Stewart, his wife.

15. Charter, 6 August 1566, by Robert Pitcairn, Archdeacon of St Andrews and Commendator of Dunfermline, of the lands of Bennachy, in favour of James Ogilvy of Balfour and his wife Margaret Gray. With seal (damaged).

16. Instrument of sasine, 31 January 1567, in favour of James Ogilvy of Balfour and his wife Margaret Graye, of the lands of Bennachye.

17. Instrument, 15 May 1567, in favour of Margaret Gray, Lady of Balfour, concerning the lands of Bennachy.

18. Instrument of sasine, 30 March 1604, of the lands of Bennachie, in favour of James Ogilvy of Balfour.